Cure Tobacco Right

Few farmers know how to cure tobacco and yet it is the climax of a year's labor. Don't ruin the crop after it is made. Our reports are to the effect that the crop is a fine one, ripe and ready for the barn. Now call on your neighbor if he has been a success at curing and he will aid you. Then you go and teach some one and in a short while Appomattox county will be known as the home of the finest dark and brown wrapper.

Here's when the County, State and Nation could render a real service to the farmer if the several agricultural departments would put into the great dark belt experienced curers like John Martin and Robert Babcock. The weed is very like a child—the most watchful care is required and the curing stage is the most dangerous period of its life. In the interest of this great asset of Appomattox county we would welcome a field force at this season of the year to instruct and supervise the curing of our crops.

Taking His Medicine

Senator Knute Nelson, the senior Senator from Minnesota, life long Republican of Norwegian descent, erstwhile supposed to have in his veins the fiery and intrepid blood of the Vikings, swallowed his bitter dose of high tariff medicine like a sick child. He whimpered at the burdens being placed on the people who sent him to Washington to look out for their interests, but under the party lash of that organization which sold its independence of action to the big interests which furnished its campaign fund, he voted for the whole tariff mess, sugar robbery, wool robbery, cotton goods thievery—the whole rotten batterash of venality flaunted forth under the guise of "protection". He cried out "We are in the hands of the Philistines!" but he lacked the courage to use his vote as a stone aimed at the forehead of the Goliath of Robbery. He added: "If that's the kind of tariff you want to inflict upon the American people, we want to know it! I never heard of a more unconscionable duty. I would be ashamed to go back to Minnesota and tell the people I have voted for a tax of 100 per cent on the woolen cloth all of us have to wear in winter time." Further on he said: "They have us by the throat, and, perhaps, it would be wiser to take the medicine in silence than to turn our heads towards providence and hope to get relief from that source." That was not the battle cry of the son of a hundred Vikings—it was the craven squeal of a man who was false to his constituents and his country's needs.

Virginia Has One Representative In Big Group of New Missionaries

Mrs. Marrow Davis Tumblin (1) of Newport News, who has just sailed from New York on the S. S. Santarim of the Lloyd Brasileiro Line (2) for Pernambuco, Brazil, where she and her husband will learn the Brazilian language before engaging in educational work at Bahia, Brazil, under the direction of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Prior to her recent marriage to Rev. J. A. Tumblin of Laurens, S. C., Mrs. Tumblin was Miss F. Marrow Davis. She has had wide experience in religious work in her local church. Rev. and Mrs. Henry Judson Davis of Singers Glen, Va., are also under appointment of the Board for foreign service, but they have been compelled to defer their sailing for the present.

WITH the sending out this season of fifty new missionaries by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, 250 new workers have been sent to foreign fields during the 75 Million Campaign, or one-half the goal that was set in the number of workers to be provided during that movement. It is anticipated the remaining 250 will go out during the remainder of the Campaign period that will expire in December, 1924. The workers going out this season will enter the fields of China, Japan, Africa, Palestine, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico.

Inasmuch as the largest missionary effort of the denomination is centered in the Orient, the larger portion of the workers sailed from Seattle Saturday, September 2, on the Admiral Liner President Jackson for stations in China and Japan. The missionaries for fields on other continents sail from New York on various lines and some of them will not depart until September 30.

Varied Types Workers Sent

Included in the list of missionaries are preachers and evangelists, teachers, doctors, nurses, one architect, one expert in domestic science, and special workers among women and children. William Earle Hines of Spartanburg, S. C., who goes to Shanghai to supervise the construction of all missionary buildings in China, enjoys the distinction of being the first architect ever sent out by the Foreign Mission Board, and his appointment indicates the vast extent of the Southern Baptist work in that country. More than half of the total number of missionaries in the employ of this board are located in China, where the results of their labors are very gratifying to the officers of the Board.

Large interest centers, also, in the launching of an intensive missionary work in Palestine, to which country there go Rev. and Mrs. Fred Bunyan Pearson of Moulton, Ala., and Rev. and Mrs. J. Wash Watts, of Laurens, S. C. Some native missionaries are already at work in Palestine, and the outlook there is considered very encouraging, despite the present complicated political and racial controversies.

Campaign Brings Enlargement

In addition to the sending out of 250 new workers to foreign fields the 75 Million Campaign has made it possible to increase the number of native workers from 771 to 1172, to practically double the missionary equipment in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentine, Chile, Uruguay and Mexico, and to enter the new fields of Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Roumania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. Southern Baptists now have a practically unbroken string of mission fields encircling the globe, and a possible mission audience of 900,000,000 people, or one-half the total population of the globe.

And the results on the field have kept pace with the larger investment in the work and number of workers Since the outset of the Campaign the Foreign Mission Board reports the organization of 117 new churches, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools with a gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions to Baptist work of $1,003,390.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by missionary physicians. Churches on the foreign fields, exclusive of the new territory in Europe and the Near East, now number 622 with 64,251 members. There are also 971 Sunday schools with 53,691 pupils, and 694 mission schools of all grades with 26,507 students.

Expense Rate Is Low

More than $6,250,000 net has gone from the Campaign into foreign mission work, and so economically have these funds been handled, the Board reports, that 96.24 cents out of every dollar has actually reached the foreign fields, only 3.74 cents out of each dollar being required to care for the total cost of administration. But with these larger receipts and economical administration the Board is unable to meet the demands upon it, and at its last annual meeting it was compelled to reduce the requests of the missionaries on the field for appropriations by more than $1,000,000.

One-fourth of the wheat we grow is the result of the researches of the Government. After years of untiring experiment and investigation, the Government, through the Department of Agriculture, was enabled to introduce into this country the remarkable Durum wheat through which our production has been increased fully twenty-five per cent. This has been only one of many surprising but little-known accomplishments of the Government, which are covered in the interesting series of stories for which we have the exclusive right of distribution in this community.
